I am a loser by measure of choice, a winner when both me & you fulfill our soul role.

Grief, food as anti-medicine, amoralness. Propaganda would fuel an excess rage of friend against friend stemming from self hate purchased because the palatability versus boring, bland, unforgiving personal acceptance was forced as desirable taste power from distrust, dysfunction, delineation. What were we going to do, change our tastes? Reform the family? Be curious with the neighbours? Nowhere, noway, nobody. Here's an example of outliers who did risk what none dared but best and secretively at that.
